

LAST DAY OF
THE CEREMONY

Program of Exercises at St. Louis Exposition on State Day, Fittingly
Followed Out.

ELABORATE PLANS

Speeches Were Made by Governor Odell, of New York — Laying of Corner Stones.

(Special By Scripps-McLure.)
St. Louis, May 2.—State day is the last of the triad of exciting days
of the dedication period. A great civic parade of nearly 100,000 persons traversed the course of the military pageant of Thursday. It was under the Grand Marshalship of E. J.
Spencer and was replete with historic interest. Expensive floats depicting the earlier days of the Louisiana territory, Indians and trappers and other pictures of the life of the period were to be seen. All of the commercial bodies of the city participated. Many extravagantly decorated vehicles were piloted in the procession.

Was Reviewed
After this parade had been reviewed
by the visiting governors of the states on the exposition grand stand
the audience was invited to assemble
in the Liberal Arts building where they were called to order by William H. Thompson, treasurer of the exposition and chairman of the Ground
and Building committee. Reverend William R. Harper, president of the University of Chicago, delivered the invocation. Former United States Senator William Lindsay of the Worlds Fair Commission was the President of the Day.

The Address
Gov. A. M. Dockery of Missouri,
made an address, and Gov. Benjamin
B. Odell of New York responded.
Rabbi Leon Harrison of St. Louis, pronounced the benediction and a
salute of 100 guns concluded the program.
The Pains continued their daylight
fireworks for the remainder of the day. Immediately after the exercises
in the building the governors of
states proceeded to the sites of the state buildings on the wooded plateau where the corner stones of several of these structures were laid.

Ladies Share
The board and its guests were
entertained the wives of the members
of the diplomatic corps, members of the cabinet, members of the joint committee of Congress, the Admiral
of the Navy, the Lieutenant General
of the Army, the Grand Marshal,
the governors of states, the officiating
clergymen and members of the national at commission each day of the celebration just passed.

The Board and its guests were
conducted each day, with a military escort to the Exposition grounds.
They did not ride in the parade. The Board also gave a reception this afternoon to the visiting ladies.

Luncheon Booths
Against the coming of the unexpected crowds, the Exposition company
provided many luncheon booths on
the exposition grounds and maintained at the Union station a free information bureau for supplying directions to the hotels and private boarding houses of the city. Guides were furnished for parties that desired
special accommodations. A guide book of the city, containing a comprehensive arrangement of the street
car lines, the directions of the numbers on the blocks and the prices
for accommodations has been issued by the exposition. Private houses
and boarding houses, where World's Fair visitors may find accommodations displayed a small white flag
properly inscribed.

SLAIN AND PLACED ON TRACKS

Murderer Hoped to Conceal the Evidence of His Crime.

Hamilton, O., May 2.—Charles Reed, 42 years old, a widower, who has been employed by the Wertz Transfer Company, was murdered. His body was then placed on the railroad tracks near Tieno in the hope that a passing train
would conceal all evidence of the crime. The man was last seen here
April 28, when he entered a saloon
with an unknown man, whom the police are now searching for.

Ready for the Boer Colony.
City of Mexico, May 2.—A tract of 3,000 acres of ranch land near Santa

will meet Gen. Viljoen and return with his families.

FIND BODY IN HALLWAY
WITH SKULL CRUSHED

New York Police Arrest Man Who Admits Leaving Unknown Victim
on Walk After Fight.

New York, May 2.—With his skull
crushed in and the marks of a cleaver
on his neck and shoulders, James Edward McMahon, a brother of former Police Justice Daniel F. McMahon,
was found murdered in the vestibule
of the bathhouse in West One Hundred and Fifty-third street, where he lived.
In the pools of blood that were all
around the body were the footprints
of one or two men, and the two families who live on the ground floor of the house told the police that they had been awakened about 3 o'clock in the morning by the sounds of a struggle
in the hallway. The police have arrested Donald J. Kennedy, 21 years of age, on the charge of murdering McMahon. Kennedy told the police
he had been drinking in a saloon and
that after leaving it about 1 o'clock
in the morning he became involved in a fight with a man whom he declared
he did not know. He said he knocked
the man down and left him lying on the sidewalk. The place where he said the fight occurred is near the house where McMahon's body was found.

ANTI-HEBREWS
USE VIOLENCE

Women Are Thrown from Windows
in a Fierce Riot at Bas-sarrabia.

Vienna, May 2.—Horrible brutali-
ties are reported during riots at Kischeneff, Bessarabia. Many women and children were victims of the mob, which included even a better classes. Some of the victims were thrown from windows to the pavements. The rioters also pillaged and defiled the synagogues
and killed the caretakers. The Jews who escaped are seeking refuge at Odessa.

George Burdett, of Appleton, aged 7 years, fell from a bridge near Rav-
inle street into the Ravine, a dis-

caped with no broken bones and no
more serious injuries than a severe shaking up. He alighted squarely
upon his feet.

V. S. Kidd, a cousin of the former state bank examiner, has been in Appleton the last few days looking over the ground in the interest of Chicago capitalists, who contemplate

This action was taken because of Gov. La Follette have vetoed the bond bill.

FATAL MAY DAY LABOR RIOTS

Unemployed in Spanish Towns Shot
and Slashed by Gendarmes.

Madrid, May 2.—May day labor
demonstrations occurred in many
towns of Spain, but principally in Ca-telonia. In most cases there were no
disorders, but at Almeria the rioters
fired on the municipal tax offices and stoned the gendarmes. The civil guard dispersed them and many persons were injured by saber cuts. At Jullin, in the province of Murcia, the unemployed invaded the town hall demanding work. They fired on the gen-darmes, who returned the fire, killing
two and wounding others. An officer of gendarmes was severely wounded.

ARREST PRIEST
FOR THEMURDER

Rev. Walser Charged with Having Killed Beautiful Agatha Reich-
lin with a Stone.

HOUNDS ARE USED

Bloodhounds Taken to the House, Go From Wo-
man's to Man's Beds Continually.

(Special By Scripps-McLure.)
Lorain, Ohio, May 2.—Rev. Walser
was arrested this morning pending
an investigation concerning the mysterious death of Agatha Reichlin
which occurred night before last.
Walser was the only person in the house at the time of the girl's murder.

Traced by Bloodhounds Walser's arrest followed a test by bloodhounds. The dogs had been taken to Miss Reichlin's room and immediately set forth from her bed to Walser's bed, running back and forth between the two beds and refused to take up the scent elsewhere.

Brutal Crime
Miss Reichlin was murdered sometime during the night of Thursday.
She and Walser were alone in the house at the time, her brother being away. She was very beautiful and about thirty years old. Walser
claimed burglars killed her.

RAILWAY TAX IS NOW IN DOUBT

It May Be That the Ad Valorem
Tax Bill Will Now Be Beaten.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Madison, May 2.—Even the bill taxing railroads on the ad valorem basis
is not yet a certainty. The senate amendment excluding railroad bonds
from assessment and taxation as railroad property is the rock on which the assembly is split, and there is considerable doubt as to whether the lower house will concur. The bill which is in the hands of the assembly committee on assessment and
collection of taxes for consideration
of the senate amendments, was laid
aside pending the result of the contest on the commission bill, but will be taken up in committee early next week.

LONDONERS IN WALKING RACE

The Stock Exchange Members Held
Their Annual May Day
Walk.

London, May 2.—Eighty-seven members of the London stock exchange
started at 6:30 o'clock Friday morning from Westminster bridge on a May day walk to the Brighton acquarium, a distance of 52½ miles. Great interest has been excited in the contest for which the competing members had been training for weeks.
Prizes were offered to the competitors and considerable sums of money
were wagered on the result. Before 20 miles had been covered the number had been reduced nearly one-half.

RIOS, THE PROPHET,
WAS CAPTURED

The Fanatical Filipino Leader Taken
Captive in the Island of Luzon.

Manila, May 2.—Gov. Gallies of Luzon province and party of volunteers Thursday captured Rios, the fanatical Filipino leader, in that part of the island of Luzon. Rios claims to be of divine origin. He attracted many followers, and started an insurrection. He fled to the mountains, and later claimed the title of "pope of Luzon." Gov. Gallies captured Rios in the disguise the latter
had worn when appearing as a "prophet." He is said to be guilty of many crimes, and probably will be tried for murder. A fanatical Moro attacked an outpost at Camp Vicars
island of Mindanao yesterday,
and wounded three soldiers before
he was killed.

SECRETARY LOEB IS TAKEN ILL

Suffering From Mountain Fever, He Is Detained in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., May 2.—William Loeb, secretary to President Roosevelt, was unable to leave with the presidential party for Kansas City. He is confined to his room at a hotel, suffering from an attack of mountain
fever contracted during his stay in the Yellowstone region. It was at first thought he was threatened with typhoid.

Fractures His Skull.

Racine, Wis., May 2.—Frank Palica,
who nineteen years ago figured in the attempted assassination of Mayor So-
cor, committed suicide by jumping
from a second-story window. His skull was fractured.

PRESIDENT TALKS
TO CHRISTIANS

IS POTENT AGENCY FOR GOOD

Mr. Roosevelt Thus Designates the Railroad Branch of the Organization
Which he Says Has Tended to Elevate the Employees of Roads.

Topeka, Kas., May 2.—President Roosevelt made two addresses in Topeka, one at the laying of the cornerstone of the new railroad Y. M. C. A.
building and the other at the auditorium before the international convention of the Y. M. C. A. Both addresses were heard by immense crowds of people, and were received with the greatest enthusiasm.

In his address, President Roosevelt
expressed the hope that the Y. M. C. A. convention would be the most profitable ever held. The President characterized the railroad Y. M. C. A. as one of the most potent agencies for good in the country, in that it tended
to make better men of the railroad employees, upon whom so much depended.

The ceremonies occupied twenty minutes. Then the President was taken to the residence of Gov. Bailey,
where he was entertained at dinner.
As the party passed the state house a number of old soldiers who were drawn up on the east entrance of the building saluted the President. He returned the salute.

Addresses Y. M. C. A.
After the dinner the party proceeded
to the Auditorium, where the President delivered an address to the delegates of the Y. M. C. A. The large building was jammed with people and
there were thousands who could not enter.

The President devoted most of his speech to the good work accomplished
by the Y. M. C. A., and said that such organizations as the one he was addressing developed the two necessary
qualities of work and brotherly love.
"Nothing can be done with a man
who will not work," he said. "We have
in our scheme of government no room
for the man who does not wish to pay
his way through life by what he does."

After the President spoke a short reception was held.

At Kansas City.
The president spent five hours in Kansas City, Mo., and later was the guest of Kansas City, Kas. Just across the state line, for two hours. The president was driven over a route fifteen miles long, reviewed nearly 20,000
school children, made two speeches, one at the convention hall before
the greatest crowd that the structure
ever held, and partook of a luncheon
as the guest of the Commercial club
of Kansas City, Mo.

It is estimated that 100,000 persons,
several thousand coming to town from surrounding places, greeted the president. The schools were closed, and business generally was suspended.

Talks to Veterans.

President Roosevelt was introduced
by Mayor Reed. A great demonstration took place as he arose to speak.
The president had a word of greeting, specially for the men who wore the blue and those who wore the gray.
"I do not usually say anything about
our being a reunited country," he said, "because it is not necessary. Of course, we are a reunited country, and in every northern audience, wherever I see a group of men wearing the button of the Grand Army of the Republic I am certain to find a group of merit, ready to cheer every allusion to the gallantry of the men who wore the gray."

Good Citizenship.

Taking the lessons taught by the soldiers of the civil war the president discussed the question of good citizenship.

"In our complex relation of employed and employer," he said, "of
one class with another class, of one section with another section, we can work out a really successful result only
if those interested will get together
and make an honest effort each to understand his neighbor's view point
and then an honest effort each while working for his own interests to avoid
working to the detriment of his neighbor."

Each Has Rights.
"Wrong is wrong just as much if it
is done by the little man to the big man as by the big man to the little man—to the capitalist by the wage worker, or to the wage worker by the capitalist."

"In the long run wage worker and
capitalist will go down in common ruin if each does not honestly try to get on with justice to the other and work out a scheme of action which shall be to their common advantage."

At the station at Armstrong the president, just before the departure
for the west, received a delegation of students from the Kansas City university, who presented to him a gold
badge set with pearls and diamonds,
and designating him an honorary member of the university library association.

Cuban Ends Life.

New York, May 2.—Discouraged at
his failure to redeem his lost fortunes,

in the Cuban army and an intimate friend of President Roosevelt and
Gen. Leonard Wood, shot and killed himself.

(Special by Scripps-McLure.)
Paris, May 2.—President Loubet
and King Edward this morning reviewed the Paris garrison consisting
of eighteen thousand picked troops.
The parade was a very slightly affair
and thousands were present to see England's king.

SUFFRAGE BILL
MET ITS DOOM

It Was Killed in the Senate While
Assembly Was Ending
Rate Bill.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Madison, May 2.—The Woman Sur-
frage bill met its biennial doom
Thursday evening at the hands of the senate, while the assembly was
disposing of the railway commission
bill. There was considerable debate
but it was mostly of a humorous
turn, between Senators O'Neill, who favored the bill, and Senator Mc-Donough, who opposed it. The vote
however, was close, the bill being refused enactment and third reading
by a majority of three and the women will doubtless feel encouraged to try again. Senator O'Neill's desk was covered with roses Friday, as a testimonial by the ladies of his efforts in their behalf.

ADJOURNMENT IS STILL FAR OFF

The Legislature Cannot Get Through Work by May 16 as Was Planned.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Madison, May 2.—The legislature
wants to adjourn since May 16.
It is still believed, however, that the date will be a week later. Adjournment on Saturday means that the work must be finished the preceding Tuesday, the governor being given
three days in which to consider bills
after they reach him. And it is very doubtful whether the work can be completed in the eight working days remaining if adjournment is to be reached May 16.

SECRETARY MAKES
AN APOLOGY

Ambassador Hay Sends a Note Expressing Regret for Haste
to Russia.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—Secretary Hay has made a graceful acknowledgement of Russia's statement of her purpose relative to Manchurian designs in that quarter. The secretary's note addressed to Count
Casimir expressed regret that there should have been even a temporary misconception of doubt about Russia's position in the matter and seized
the opportunity to return the thanks
of this government for the frank and satisfactory declaration of Russian principle. The note serves to make a permanent record of Russia's position as verbally explained to the United States.

STUDENT IS BRANDED
WITH RED HOT IRONS

Junior Class President Is Marked for Life by Pupils of Grand Rapids School.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 2.—John McPherson, president of the junior class of the Grand Rapids high school,
bears an ugly mark on his forehead in the form of the figures '03 firmly im-
printed there, he alleges, with hot branding irons by members of the senior class.

McPherson was inveigled into a vacant lot surrounded by bushes and trees, where the conspirators were waiting to decorate him and where a
fire built in a hole in the ground
heated the irons. He was firmly bound and then two young men who wore masks applied the brands. It is declared that they were chosen to do the work by a vote of the senior class and their names are kept secret.

After he had been freed by his assailants McPherson hastened to a physician, who counteracted part of the effect of the blisters, but he is marked probably for life. He has been urged to make complaint to the authorities, but refuses.

world is imminent. In the middle of

of the village were alarmed by a loud
rumble and then the pond rose from
its bed 100 feet in the air and dropped
back to its original place.

Springfield, Ill., May 2.—The Muel-

Friday by a vote of 90 to 20, with forty-three absent or not voting.

The bill will be a law on completion of two more steps. The amendments
must be concurred in by the senate.
Then the governor must approve it
or let it become a law without his approval. Friends of the bill have no fear of failure at either of those stages.

The bill will be reported to the senate. The house amendments can be concurred in by a single vote. Even slight opposition in the senate is not expected. In its original form it passed
the senate by unanimous vote, and the

(Special to The Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., May 2.—The
"freight rate bill," providing for the establishment of a state railway commission, will be the "burning issue"
made by Gov. La Follette and his supporters in the next campaign. This was clearly indicated by the governor
in his special message to the legislature, and was still more definitely stated by Speaker Lenroot in his speech for the bill Thursday night,
when in advocating the Le-
voy amendment providing for the submission of the bill to vote of the people at the next spring election, he

COLLEGE GAMES

Beloit 21, Northwestern 6
Beloit, Wis., May 2.—Beloit showed Northwestern under yesterday by a score of 21 to 6. Morey took 11 easy and did not remove his sweater during the whole game. The day was cold and raw, which probably accounted for the number of errors made on both sides. The game today with Notre Dame promises to be much more exciting. Score: 2—Beloit, 21; Northwestern, 6. Two base hits—Morey 2, Mills, Lipp, Moreland, Flanagan. Double play—McConnell to Johnson. Bases on balls—Off Morey, 1; off Whiteside, 6. Struck out—By Morey, 5. Passed ball—Bundell. Stolen bases—McConnell, Slater, Merrill 3, Burleson. Time—2:00. Umpire—Pickett.

Capt. Ware May Play Today
Madison, Wis., May 2.—The varsity nine will play Northwestern today at Camp Randall. The Methodists defeated the Badgers by a score of 6-2 last week, and Coach Bandler's men promise that the tables will be turned today. Lewis, the freshman pitcher, who faced Northwestern in the previous game, will be in the box today. Capt. Ware is out and may be allowed to play.

Will Play Illinois Wednesday
Madison, Wis., May 2.—The games scheduled with Illinois will not be canceled. Manager Kilpatrick received a telegram this morning from Manager Huff asking if Illinois could come here next Wednesday as scheduled. He was given an affirmative answer, and the series will be played out as previously arranged.

Milton 15, Elkhorn 3
Milton, Wis., May 2.—The Milton baseball team played their first game this season yesterday with a team from Elkhorn as their opponents. Milton won by a score of 15 to 3. The batteries were: Milton, Alkin and Broughton; Elkhorn, Blodgett and Hall.

Rev. J. Wood Miller Gave Lecture Under Auspices of Club Women.
The Rev. J. Wood Miller discussed the Neibelungen Lied yesterday afternoon before an appreciative audience of club ladies at the high school building, the science room being used for the purpose. The subject was discussed in a scholarly and entertaining manner, touching in detail upon the progressive steps in the legends from Norse myths to Wagner operas.

SLOW PROGRESS
MOVING BOOKS

NEW LIBRARY THE SCENE OF MUCH LABOR.

ARRANGEMENT TAKES TIME

Description of the Interior of the New Building as It Now Appears.

Many days, so many that the janitor, builders to count them, must elapse before the Carnegie building is opened to the public. In undertaking to move the mass of books, magazines, documents, and newspapers, not to mention furniture, which make up the property of the public library, a task of almost Herculean proportions was assumed. It is doubtful if any one of the persons on whom the actual labor has devolved had any adequate conception of what the work was which must be done.

Much progress has been made, however, thanks to the diligent efforts of the library force and members of the board. Mrs. Best, Mrs. Menzies, Miss Eloise Nowlan, Miss Gertrude Skavlem, and Miss Gene-

Many Books in Place
In the stack room, which occupies the center of the main floor of the building, the shelves have been filled with the works of fiction and general literature. Every book of these classes has been disposed of, leaving the bottom and top shelves free, both of which are two inconveniently located to be utilized except in extremity, and practically every inch of space is occupied.

To the left of the stack room, as the building is entered through the main doors, are two very handsome rooms, or rather one divided into two by a projecting partition wall. The larger of these and the first to be entered, is the reading room. Instead of the conventional reading tables—long, severe, and of perfunctory design—small round tables of novel and attractive pattern are used. Wall shelves hold the bound volumes of magazines. The smaller room is the reference room and contains the encyclopedic and general reference volumes. In these two rooms most of the books are on their shelves. A number of volumes which are in the hands of the binder and others which are needed to fill out incomplete files are still awaited. When they have been received the library will have an unusually complete series of magazine files.

Children's Room
In the large and pleasant room to the left of the main entrance is located the children's library. Many of the books are in their places and the orthographical collection is being arranged. All of the books in this room are in wall shelves and are absolutely open to the children. The highest shelves are low enough for the little tots to reach with ease. Aside from reading tables of the type employed in other reading rooms, there is one long table which stands barely eighteen inches from the floor which will accommodate the wee readers.

It was an amusing sight to watch the procession when the mounted birds were being taken from the quarters in the Phoenix block to the Carnegie building. A number of children had volunteered their service, and some of them were hardly as large as the birds they had to carry. For size it was almost a stand off between a peacock and a youngster who manfully struggled with his unwieldy burden.

Busy Downstairs

Downstairs less progress has been made. The entire floor of the board room, the smaller room at the southwest corner of the building, is obscured by the governmental publications, duplicate unbound magazines, and a number of publications dating from about the time of the civil war, which are awaiting the time when they can be placed on shelves. These will be placed in the stacks which have been brought from the old building, and are being erected in the largest room on the basement floor.

On the top floor the art room and the other rooms will probably stand vacant for some time to come. A number of paintings were unearthed when the property of the library was transferred to its new quarters, but they are more interesting as antiques than as works of art.

From India

Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Hopkins of Secunderabad, India, whose addresses on life in the far east have aroused great interest wherever given, will speak at the Baptist church tomorrow both morning and evening. Mr. Hopkins is said to be a very eloquent man. In the evening the address will be illustrated with some beautiful stereopticon views.

CHANGES MADE IN
RAILWAY CIRCLES

Cossip of the Rail From the Local Yards and on the Main Lines.

Peter Coheen, engineer on the Northwestern way freight from Janesville to Fond du Lac, is taking a lay off. Engineer A. B. Carver running in his place. L. E. Bruner, one the Northwestern extra engineers, is off duty for a few days.

Chicago & Northwestern switch engine No. 2, was sent to Beloit from the local roundhouse this morning, to be used in the yards there while the regular switch engine from that city is in the Baraboo shops for repairs. Engineer Cole and Fireman Russell took the engine down from that city.

John Dalton, the flagman at the High street crossing, went to Monroe this morning for a visit with his mother who resides in that city. His position as flagman, was filled during his absence by John Elliott, call boy, at the St. Paul roundhouse.

Ticket scalpers have prevented the Chicago-Minneapolis lines from placing a $12.50 summer rate in effect between Chicago and the twin cities, and as a result last year's rate of $16 was instituted.

The arrival of a seventy-foot turntable at Fremont, Neb., has revived gossip concerning the possibility that a new roundhouse may be built by the North-Western in connection with the enlargement of the yards there.

Dirt is now being dumped on the lot north of the St. Paul freight house on North Main street, and a park will be created there. One side of this lot is already nicely sodded and the improvement of the remaining portion will make this a pleasing drive.

The Baltimore and Ohio has ordered 150 new locomotives for 1904 delivery, and they will represent an outlay of $2,300,000.

The Chicago and North-Western company is having new sidewalks built under the Franklin street viaduct on both sides of the street.

The papers, books and records of the Klekapon Railroad company have been surrendered to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul company, which has purchased the property. The road was formerly known as the Wisconsin Western and runs from Waukegan up the Klekapon valley to La Farge, a distance of 51 miles. It will be operated as a part of the Prairie du Chien division of the St. Paul system.

The Rock Island is adding locomotives at the rate of twenty a month, the average cost being $16,000 for each locomotive.

The Burlington surveyors have completed their survey of the Ashland-Sioux City line to connect the Burlington and Great Northern systems.

Thomas G. Skelley, of Kaukauna, a brakeman on the North-Western, is enjoying a rest and is visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Eating.

The repair of the body is not a process to be trifled with. Eating should not be done in a hurry. The demands of business may be pressing, but the demands of the body are more serious. Food eaten rapidly in large mouthfuls, prepares one sooner or later for a break down in the machine. In a word, hurrying over eating is fatal to the healthy sustenance of the body.—London Laurel.

The Hoodlum Element

While the Emerson-Eldridge wedding was taking place on Wednesday evening, some depraved person, entered the cellar, and carried away several dozen biscuits, and about half of the ice cream. Such hoodlums need looking after. This same thing has happened before at social events, and it makes it very embarrassing for the hostess, and not so pleasant for the guests.

The Recital at St. Mary's
It is not often the Catholic church throws open her doors to anything not actually a part of the regular service, and when she does the occasion is sure to be memorable. Mme. Rosa d'Erina, the distinguished artist who is to give the organ and song recital, in St. Mary's church on Sunday evening, May 10, is perhaps the most remarkable musical marvel of the day. Not only is she a vocal star of great brilliancy, but she is also the only lady concert organist in the country. She was the professional organist of the Catholic Cathedral at Armagh, Ireland, before she was twelve years of age, and at fourteen she was organist of the Carmelite church in Dublin. Her operatic debut was made in Paris, and upon going to London she immediately sprang into popularity, and was honored by a special command to sing at Marlborough House before the king and queen, being appointed vocalist and organist to the latter. In Ireland the people called her "Rosh-keen na man," the rose of the songs, and it is not too much to say that she is one of the greatest vocalists who ever graced this section, while she is the world over, embodied in one individual is a concentration never before met with. She will be assisted by Mr. G. R. Vantom, the well known tenor. No regular charge will be made for admission and a cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

The Village Postmistress.

Everyone in the little village of Maybree liked the dear old postmistress. She was a loving old lady, with a smile on her wrinkled face, and never a letter or package left the small frame post office without a pleasant word to the recipient.

Thirty years ago, Mrs. Nelson's husband was killed in the forest, and since then her place was ever behind the post office window. Thirty years ago, how many a young and prosperous farmer would smile meaningfully at the charming little widow, or gave a shining penny to the little curly-headed boy.

She was the belle of the neighborhood then, and had been from girlhood. How many bunches of beautiful and fragrant flowers were sent to adorn the little white casket, when "wee Willie" died. And didn't Sam Warner's son, one of the richest farmers in the county, ask young Mrs. Nelson to leave the post office, forever, and become queen of his luxurious home? And hadn't her brown eyes filled up with tears as she looked from him to the two green graves on the hillside, and answered "No, the only ones I ever loved or ever can love, lie there."

Then when the news was carried through the village that Mrs. Nelson was seriously ill, didn't many an old woman's eyes fill up with tears, didn't the children cry, too, and even the old men, who had once been her admirers, heard a sigh and turn from the room in silence?

Sam Warner's son was a widower, now, and had a son of his own; a tall, manly young fellow with black curly hair and a college education. Wasn't he heir to old Sam Warner's millions, being the only grand child in the family? How many times had he heard his old father praise the postmistress, and didn't father cry like a baby when Weston told him that Mrs. Nelson was at the point of death?

"Any mail for Warner?" asked Weston Warner of the new postmistress, a few weeks after old Mrs. Nelson was laid away. Then how he trembled when took the letters and papers from that beautiful girl. He came oftener now for the mail than he used to do, and tarried longer in the office than was necessary. Then, one day he found her walking home from Warner's woods, where she had been gathering flowers, and he took her in his carriage, and they drove to the cemetery, where they together adorned the three graves with the flowers of spring.

Often he walked with her from church, but she looked upon him with no more favor than she did on the other young men, even if Weston was a millionaire.

When Weston was in the South, he sent flowers and wrote to her. "It is not right," she said, "he cannot mean well by me. Mr. Elsie Wellington, poor, but—as she gazed into a mirror, "I am what the world calls pretty. Nothing in the way of education, no prospects of wealth or fame. I will tell him when he returns."

Then, one day, Weston drove up to the post office in a grand turnout. How Elsie dreaded that henceforth he should pay no attention to her, for beside him sat a lady of remarkable beauty, and dressed as though like a queen. How her heart beat, when he smiled and said, "Miss Wellington, may I present to you my Southern cousin, May Shirley?"

FOLLY OF STOMACH DOSING FOR CATARRH

Breathe Hyomel and Kill All Catarrhal Germs in the Head.

The old-fashioned idea of dumping nauseating medicines into the stomach to cure any and all diseases from catarrh of the head to typhoid fever, is rapidly becoming a thing of the past. Every day sees less and less medicine used by the best physicians. This is particularly true in the treatment of catarrh and other diseases of the respiratory organs. It is just as foolish to take drugs into the stomach to cure catarrh of the head as to treat a sprain by swallowing tablets or tonics. The only way in which catarrh can be cured is by a direct application that will kill the bacilli of catarrh in the mucous membrane of the nose and throat and prevent their growth.

Hyomel is the only known treatment that accomplishes this. It is the simplest, most pleasant and only absolute cure for catarrh ever discovered.

While it is strictly within the bounds of truth to state this the only method of curing catarrh, it can also be called the most economical.

The People's Drug Co., have so much faith in the merits of Hyomel and its unusual curative qualities, that they sell it under their personal guarantee to refund the money, if the purchaser can say it has failed to help. This is certainly the strongest evidence of good faith and enables any sufferer to try Hyomel with no chance to spend money without return.

have not seen her for six years, until I was in Florida, and by pure beggary I persuaded her to come home with me." After a happy chat, Weston and Miss Shirley drove away, but before he went, Weston said to Elsie, "I'll be here at seven tonight." Sure enough at seven o'clock, Weston drove up. His coachman hitched the horses and repaired to the store on the corner for a smoke.

In the simple parlor Elsie sat in a gown of pink; her light hair, fastened at the white nape of her neck. Weston was all in black, with a diamond ring and diamond stud.

"But, Elsie, I do mean well by you. Did I not write you three letters to your one, when I was away, and can't you see—O, pshaw! Elsie, it's no use. I love you, love you, love you, and I want you to leave this dismal part of God's acre and come with me to the Sunny South. All I have I lay at your feet. Darling will, you be my wife."

"Mr. Warner, what have I to say to you? You have been so very kind, and I think I do love you, a little. You never heard that I am the only child and support of my old father who is an invalid. He is in a home at— and all he has in this world is what 'little Elsie' gives him. I cannot express my gratitude, but I must decline."

After a few hours trying to convince her that he could care for her father, too, she asked him to please leave her with her thoughts. She would decide. But he was not to come near her for two whole weeks.

One night the village was brightly lighted. Everyone hurried to and fro, trying to help for the little post office was burning to the ground. Elsie lay, weak, but unhurt, at the home of a neighbor. Weston Warner dared not see her. His two weeks were not up yet. So he lent all his strength to helping his neighbors.

"Mr. Warner, Miss Wellington's trunk is in the yard, please carry it in will you, as the young lady needs it."

Then into the parlor he went, trunk and all, for he knew Elsie would be there. "Yes, in that corner, it will be all right."

The night after the fire, Weston called at Mr. Brown's home. "May I see Miss Wellington, please?" he asked. And when she appeared in the doorway, looking not a bit worse after the excitement, "You're young and active for a while? I have something to tell you." "I do I can wait, no longer. I do love you so, you are too cruel. O, love, won't you be my wife?" Say "yes" my own, for next month I am going once more to the South, and I want to take my little wife with me. Say "yes" love, no, I beg of you."

Then, as she gazed at him with tears of love in her eyes, she whispered, "yes, if you really wish it."

Ah, what a talk when Weston Warner married the postmistress. But, as is usual in country towns, they gossiped in vain, for Weston and his bride were then on their honeymoon, and, when they returned they were going to live on Weston's beautiful place in Florida, where she could care for her dear father herself, and be happy with her loved ones.

Now, when Weston Warner comes into the house, he always asks, "Anything for Warner?" And, unhesitatingly, she puts her arms around his neck and gives him a good kiss, a kiss of true love.

OF UNTOLD VALUE. The Information Contained in This Gentleman's Statement is Priceless.

The hale, hearty, strong can afford to toss this paper to the side impatiently when they read the following but any sufferer in Janesville who has suffered hours of torture caused by kidney complaint will stand in his own light if he does not follow the valuable advice offered here:

Mr. W. Samp of 412 Euclid avenue, proprietor of the largest rock quarry business in Beloit says: "I had trouble with my kidneys for many years. It consisted mainly of a lame and aching back and there were occasions when I had such severe attacks that I could not get out of the house for two or three weeks at a time. I was then practically helpless for it was painful to move. At other times it assumed a milder form being a dull aching across my kidneys, used medicines of different kinds but I never found anything that gave the satisfaction Doan's Kidney Pills gave. For Blood and Nerves

Greatest of All Spring Remedies. Prine's Celery Compound

Today your friends and neighbors are using woman's friend, Prine's Celery Compound, and are getting rid of their burdens and troubles. If you are observant, you will note that your woman friends are putting on flesh, they are blessed with renewed vigor, elastic step, bright eyes, and clear complexion, all of which are true indications of a new and better health. Why suffer when you can secure the same blessings? Why deny yourself the happiness of true womanly life when Prine's Celery Compound is able to make you as healthy and attractive as other women are? Mrs. Gladys Riblett, of Peoria, Ill., says:—"For more than twelve years I have been a most miserable sufferer from female weaknesses, and four family physician seemed to do me no good. I had great trouble with my lungs, and last year was advised to seek a change of climate or else prepare for death, as I was rapidly contracting consumption. I weighed but 83 pounds when six months ago I began the use of Prine's Celery Compound. Now I can sew all day, do a hard washing and all my housework, sleep as sweetly as a babe, and rise in the morning rested and refreshed. Six bottles of Prine's Celery Compound was all I needed to completely cure me, and instead of dying, as predicted, I now weigh 145 pounds, my lungs are all right, and I feel assured of my health and comfort in the future."

MISS ROSE OWENS, No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

If you are a suffering woman we would say to you that Wine of Cardui seldom fails to completely cure any case of female ills. We say emphatically, it never fails to benefit. Every day hundreds of sufferers are writing to our Ladies' Advisory Department. The letters are opened by persons competent to give advice. Mrs. Jones was cured by following the advice which was freely given her by the Ladies' Advisory Department. Miss Owens was cured without advice by just buying a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from her druggist and taking this great medicine in the privacy of her home. No doctor's examination, treatment or advice is necessary. You have read what these two cured women have written. Is this not enough to lead you to determine to be rid of suffering?

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual organs. It strengthens the nervous system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Threatening showers; warmer tonight; clear and colder Sunday.

WHAT HAVE YOU DONE?

Not many years ago an excited mob laid violent hands on an innocent man with a determination to kill him. The cities authorities interfered and rescued him, and as they led him away to the court room for examination, the mob followed, clamoring for his life.

The official who had him in charge said, "Who is he, and what has he done?" But the crowd gave no satisfactory answer. As they ascended the stairs to the court chamber Paul asked the privilege of speaking to the excited crowd, and when he had gained their attention, they soon discovered who he was, and while he was very modest as to his words, evidence was not lacking that he had done something.

The old apostle lived in an age when it cost something in the way of effort and sacrifice, to defend principles, and he was engaged in a work that invited danger, and persecution, but he possessed the courage and determination to do the work planned, and as a result, his name has come down through the centuries, and his memory is cherished today, because he accomplished something for humanity at a time when the world needed conscientious workmen.

When he said to the officer, "I am a man," he emphasized in a short, terse sentence, the dignity of manhood, and when he added that he was a Jew of no mean city, he expressed loyalty to his race and to his home.

The character of the old veteran who gave his life in defense of truth, has been studied and eulogized, ever since his name and the record of his life became history. That he lived to a purpose, and "done something" is acknowledged by all who have given any attention to his life and work.

It was worth something in the olden times to be able to say, "I am a man." It is worth more today, because of the greater opportunities that come to human experience.

The world has never needed men more than it needs them at the present time. There is no lack of imitation, but there is a shortage of the genuine, and the shortage is apparent in every department of endeavor.

There are many homes where the head of the family is represented by a frame to hang clothes on. He may not be a drunkard or a prodigal. That isn't always necessary to make him a nonentity. He may possess morality, and make a noisy profession of piety, and still be nothing but a clothes horse.

His wife is better acquainted with him than the church and in spite of the wealth of love she bestows upon him she is conscious of the fact that he is but the shadow of a man. He may be too lazy to work, too timid to entertain an opinion of his own, too brutal to be tolerated, or too pure to assume responsibility in either case he is not a man, and has no right to claim the title.

Every home should have at the head of it, a full fledged man, possessed of character enough to command not only the love, but the respect of his wife, and confidence of his children.

The honey moon will not disappear as quickly from the horizon, when more lovers develop true manhood, and when the kindly word and gentle tone which won the heart in the days of courtship, becomes mellow with the years, instead of harsh and discordant, and when the little courtesies blend with every day experience in old time gallantry.

There is a scarcity of men in all communities. Men who take an interest in public welfare, and who are willing to devote thought and intelligent action to working out results for the public good.

There are three classes of men, who make up the body politic. One the lawless, irresponsible class, another the indifferent or holy class, citizens who acknowledge and assume personal responsibility.

The two extremes frequently hold the balance of power, as was the case in the recent Chicago election. If the time ever comes when a majority of the voters adopt as a motto, "I am a man," city governments will be transformed, and a practical reform era established.

The business and industrial world, need men in every department. There is a surplus of machines, but a shortage of men who think and act for themselves.

The young man who starts out as a clerk or office boy, satisfied to perform in a given number of hours simply the work placed before him, will always be dependent upon some other brain to direct him, and before he reaches middle life he will become an automaton.

He may be faithful without being progressive, and the opportunities of life, that were never more abundant than today, will pass him without being discovered. A faithful machine accomplishes good work, but aggressive manhood provides the work.

In a Chicago factory, a visitor was interested in watching the employees as they strung along in from 7:30 to 9:30 in the morning. He said to the proprietor, "How do these men work?" Oh, he replied, "they work by the piece, and the union only permits them to turn out a certain amount of goods in a day, and if they are skillful, six or eight hours is all the time they need," and then he added, "some of them are satisfied to work three or four hours a day, just enough to keep them in whiskey."

These conditions in the labor world contribute nothing to independent, self-respecting manhood, and the men who submit to this kind of dictation will pass from the stage of action with but little to show in the way of accomplishment.

Manhood means more than profession. It means more than fame or ability, and vastly more than simple honesty. At its best estate, it means the development of the best that humanity possesses.

The full stature of a man, with faculties consecrated to service, represents the highest type that the race produces.

"What hast thou done?" is a pertinent question, but it should be asked in all seriousness and soberly considered by every individual life. This is an age of accomplishments, and the battle field is open to all contestants. Victories are won in the open arena and there are no favored classes.

The largest measure of success is not contained in a bank account, neither is it measured by fame or popularity. It lies within the grasp of the most lowly, and is not controlled by environment.

The work of life is close at hand, and its mission faithfully performed day by day leads to destiny. The question, "What hast thou done?" comes to people who are on the down hill side of life with more or less regret for the retrospect is not always satisfying. The more important question for young people with history yet unwritten, is "What do you propose to do?"

It is easy to drift with the tide down through the years, and do nothing worthy of the name, but it is possible to brace up against it, and with a fixed purpose and strong determination, work out a destiny and win many of the prizes.

THE NEW LIBRARY

In another part of the paper will be found a sketch of the library building and its equipment. The building is an ornament to the city, and one of the best in the state. There are two or three things, however about the internal arrangements that hardly seem in keeping. While ample shelf room seems to have been provided for present requirements, growth does not appear to have been taken into account, and the plans seem to contemplate the old system of selecting books.

The reading room is large enough to accommodate a liberal supply of reading matter, and if the open shelf system were adopted, from 1,000 to 1,500 volumes could be kept in this room. Of course there would be some danger of loss, but the cities that use this system find but little trouble in keeping track of the books. The public generally are honest. This fact is recognized in the large cities where the masses are permitted to walk into a cafeteria, select what they want to eat, and settle on their own accounting. The library board has doubtless canvassed the situation, and is competent to determine the best methods to employ in accommodating patrons. The board is entitled to much credit for the results accomplished. Their work represents philanthropy, and there will be no disposition on the part of the public to criticize.

THE RATE BILL

The much discussed railway rate commission bill, has passed into history, so far as the present legislation is concerned. The people spoke so emphatically that it was not found necessary to attach a referendum clause, and the governor spoke so convincingly and at such length, that there was nothing more to be said.

Some one has made the discovery that a majority of the people can't be fooled more than four years successfully, and the discovery was not pleasant. Wisconsin is to be con-and the last, the active law loving gratulated on coming to her senses in time to avert calamity.

The good people of Iowa will now be permitted to go on and commit suicide to their hearts content. If the state has an industry that hasn't been killed by adverse railroad legislation, it is because it has been overlooked in the shuffle.

There is a scrap of unwritten history concerning Iowa, that the governor ignored in his recent political volume called a message. It contains nothing that would be very helpful in a campaign, but in fairness it should be stated.

The city of Marshalltown, in the central part of the state, has three railroads. It was a good shipping point and became noted as a manufacturing center, on that account. Two years ago, the solons of the Hawkeye state struck an unexplored vein of populism and worked it with all the vigor for which the state was noted. They discovered that Iowa was being defrauded of millions of money by the soulless railway corporations, and all because the state was shy of a rate commission. They came to the rescue at a single bound and the commission was appointed.

The sequel is an object lesson for Wisconsin, or any other state that drifts away from its moorings. Within ninety days from the day that the rate commission commenced to do business, 130 carloads of machinery was shipped out of Marshalltown, and across the line into adjoining states, where manufacturers could do business on a living basis. This is recent history, easily authenticated, and should not have escaped his excellent notice.

Iowa is a great state. Nature endowed it so richly that fool legislation has thus far failed to wipe it off the map. But Wisconsin is greater in many ways than Iowa. There are a dozen towns in the state, any one of which manufactures more goods than the entire state of Iowa, and yet the manufacturers are branded as lobbyists and favored shippers by the man who has been favored with the highest honor that the people can confer.

It would serve the state right to give it about two years of Iowa crank legislation, although it would require twenty years to recover from the shock. A prominent railway official recently said, "We don't object to the ad valorem system of taxation, but we do object to having a rate commission composed of men who have already passed sentence upon us, and convicted us, and committed us to be hung."

Campaign thunder is a good thing to accumulate, but it is a little early in the game. "Gods patient poor" are doing little thinking on their own account.

It must have been an inspiring sight to see the state veterinarian, the game warden, and a few lesser lights, lobbying with the assembly on the floor of the house.

Mr. Usher, formerly of the Milwaukee Journal, has been engaged by Mr. Bowles, who is said to be conducting a campaign against the management of the Mutual Life of New York.

Baden Powell, the great English general has been visiting this country inco, and says that as far as he can see our cavalry is not up to England's by a good deal. It must be a blow to the United States to know this.

The legislature will not be criticized if they adjournment is fixed at an early date. It has accomplished good work by putting a quietus on fool measures.

If there is anything that the governor wants from now on, let him have it. Plenty of rope will complete the tragedy.

Your Uncle Ike still lives in Marinette, but his influence extends to Madison.

THE MILES' EPISODE

Gen. Nelson A. Miles has succeeded in making a spectacle of himself, and the effort did not cost him very much in the way of exertion. His statement concerning conditions in the Philippine Islands contained nothing new, and Secretary Root acted wisely in giving it publicity.

The doughty general can hardly be accused of being in his dotage, although that would be the most charitable construction to place on his actions. He has reached the age limit, and retires this summer. There was no occasion to send him abroad, and the last few months of his public life might better have been spent at home.

Few men are great enough to scatter their fame over much territory, and this is especially true of the army and navy. A man may be an expert in the line of his calling, and a piky in almost every other line. He may command respect and admiration, behind the gun and disgust humanity behind the pen.

It has recently transpired that the president after interviewing his German friends in Milwaukee, felt called upon to issue his army and navy commanders an edict, which practically said, "don't talk so much." General Miles was on the list, but the message didn't reach him in time to prevent his Philippine outbreak.

Sturgeon Bay Advocate: The legislature should hurry up with its business and adjourn. Before doing so, however, the various committees ought to put to "sleep" about ninety-nine out of every hundred of the bills that have been introduced during the present session.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday, May 2, 1863.—We publish today an item of public interest in the advertisement of Mrs. J. H. Boyle. The goods offered for sale are what is represented, and there is no deception in the offer to sell them as stated.

Four companies of the thirtieth regiment, stationed at Camp Randall, Madison, passed through the city today on their way to Missouri. They were under command of the lieutenant colonel.

Rev. H. Spalding will preach at the Institute for the Blind at seven-thirty o'clock tomorrow evening.

The body of Philip Maley, who has been missing since the 22nd ult., has been found below the dam in the rear of Wheeler's factory. A coroner's inquest was held and returned a verdict of accidental drowning. Maley had left the city with a wagon and horses to purchase cattle, and becoming intoxicated abandoned them, and it is supposed, got into the river near the Rock River house.

Gen. Burnside's old army corps has fought a successful battle near Somerset, Ky., and crossed the Cumberland near the battle ground at Mill Springs.

S. J. M. Putnam of this city, late sheriff of Rock county, has been appointed provost marshal of this congressional district. He is well qualified to discharge the duties of his new appointment and will no doubt do so acceptably to the public.

...KING CHRISTIAN IX...

King Christian IX of Denmark celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday on Wednesday. His father was the duke of Schleswig-Holstein-Sonderburg-Glücksburg, and that was his own title up to 1852, when he was accepted by the great powers of the London conference as the heir apparent to the Danish throne. On the death of Frederick VII, in 1863, he became king, so he will be able to celebrate his fortieth anniversary of his accession to the throne next November. Preparations for a solemn observance of that event are already in progress in Denmark.

One of the principal reasons for the great interest taken in King Christian all over Europe, says the New York Sun, is his relationship through the marriages of his children to the principal reigning dynasties. While there are two European sovereigns, the pope and Duke Adolph of Luxembourg, who are his seniors and not less than seven, among them being his own son, King George I of Greece, who have reigned longer, there is no monarch who can boast of a larger progeny. At the present time King Christian's family consists of six children, thirty-two grandchildren and twenty-seven great-grandchildren. The king's eldest son, Crown Prince Frederick, is married to a princess of Sweden, the oldest daughter of the late King Charles XV. One of his daughters is the dowager empress of Russia, the mother of the present czar. Another daughter is Queen Alexandra of England. His second son, the king of Greece, is married to a cousin of the czar, and his third daughter, Princess Thyra, is the Duchess of Cumberland. His youngest son's wife is Princess Marie of Bourbon-Orleans, a daughter of the Duke of Chartres, who served as aide-de-camp to Gen. McClelland in the Antietam campaign. Of King Christian's grandsons one has married Princess Maud of England, youngest daughter of King Edward VII, while another one, the crown prince of Greece has married a sister of Kaiser Wilhelm II. ...PAUL DU CHAILLU...

Paul Belfont du Chailly was born in New Orleans, La., July 31, 1837. His father was a trader on the west coast of Africa and while still a boy Paul accompanied him to the dark continent and spent considerable time there gaining a knowledge of the language and life of the natives. After returning home Du Chailly remained some time in New York city completing his education, and in 1857 went back to Africa, landing at the French settlement at the mouth of the Gaboon river. Thence he set out on a four years' expedition into the interior of Africa.

He traveled in all some 8,000 miles and was accompanied by natives only. During his trip he traversed much unexplored territory and collected some sixty specimens of birds and animals unknown to scientists. In the collection he brought back were several specimens of gorillas, a species then unknown to Europeans. He returned to New York in 1859, bringing with him a large collection of native arms and implements and many specimens of natural history. A large part of this collection was later purchased by the British museum.

Many of the theories advanced by Du Chailly after this trip were denied by scientists, especially those concerning gorillas and Obongo dwarfs, and in 1863 Du Chailly went back to Africa and spent two years more in exploration. During this time he discovered the "Pigmies," and upon returning to America gave a series of lectures. In later years Du Chailly traveled extensively in Sweden, Norway, Lapland, and Finland.

In 1901 the traveler went to Russia, where he planned to spend four years in travel and research. Du Chailly was a prolific writer and recorded much of his interesting wanderings in a long series of books, the best known of which is "The Land of the Midnight Sun."

Coming Attractions.

Effie Elsler
Few dramatic organizations of one size and character of Julia Marlowe's $20,000.00 production of "When Knighthood was in Flower" are seen in one night stands, and when they are, should be liberally patronized. This production carries fifty people and two car loads of scenery and effects, the cost of maintenance being over $2,500.00 per week. The complete production and the original company will represent the beautiful romance here, exactly as seen one whole season at the Criterion Theatre, New York, and through extended engagements in the leading cities. The attraction plays here under a heavy guarantee, and no doubt receive the support it deserves from our local theatre-goers, upon its appearance in a few weeks. Effie Elsler assumes the role of Princess Mary Tudor and the attraction is under the management of Frank L. Perley, which alone insures its merit. Here May 18.

Interesting and thrilling. The title role is a young exile from Austria, Prince Hugo von Rupert. (Mr. Wilson) a soldier of fortune whose poverty is no check on his effervescent spirit nor his misadventure to ambition. This enjoyable type of German is peculiarly adaptable to Mr. Wilson's great talents, even more happily than his former success "Metz Strobel." In "The Watch On The Rhine," the stage pictures required for "A Prince of Tatters" are exceedingly elaborate and massive, which, together with the costumes, properties, electrical effects and color schemes, make a memorable event in the modern day of realism. The acting company is unusually large in numbers and as each character necessitates a careful portrayal, it is none the less great in talent. In Janesville May 22.

Face to Face
The Van Dyke show made their biggest hit last night in "Across the Desert," a melodrama well constructed and including good comedy and strong sensational scenes. The scenic effects were a surprise, and superior to many of our one night productions. The acting of the company was good, and was deservedly interrupted by well merited applause. Some of the strongest specialties offered us this season were given us last night, and the Belle City management are to be congratulated in securing so meritorious a company. Tonight another strong play, "Face to Face," with a change of specialties will be presented.—Racine News.

Letter to Janesville Machine Co., Janesville, Wis.
Gentlemen: You are makers; so are we. You know what you make; you know all about it. We know our paint as you know our goods.
We know what it is, how it acts, what it does, how it lives, and how long—the conditions being favorable or unfavorable.
It is fair that we take the risk of it every way; but we ought not to risk any use or abuse of it.
Cant draw the line. We are dealing with strangers. We are strangers to them as they are strangers to us.
We want to be trusted by them. We trust them first; that's the way to get trusted. We trust them to paint with a fair degree of common paint-knowledge and care. We expect to be trusted to furnish paint as good as paint can be, and to last long as paint can.

If you do your business that way, you are a fellow with us and one of a thousand.
A few mean men in the course of a year will abuse our trust and put us to loss; but 999 in 1,000 will tell their friends how true we are, and our paint is. That's what has made us the largest paint concern in the world. It is our best advertisement. J. P. Baker is our agent in Janesville. Yours truly,
F. W. DEVORE & CO.

THE MEN AND WOMEN

Who Enjoy the Choicest Products of the World's Commerce.

Knowledge of What is Best More Important Than Wealth Without It.

It must be apparent to every one that qualities of the highest order are necessary to enable the best of the products of modern commerce to attain permanently to universal acceptance. However loudly heralded, they may not hope for world-wide prominence unless they meet with the general approval, not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting, enjoying and learning the real worth of the choicest products. Their commendation, consequently, becomes important to others, since to meet the requirements of the well informed of all countries the method of manufacture must be of the most perfect order and the combination the most excellent of its kind. The above is true not of food products only, but is especially applicable to medicinal agents and after nearly a quarter of a century of growth and general use the excellent remedy, Syrup of Figs, is everywhere accepted, throughout the world, as the best of family laxatives. Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants known to act most beneficially on the system and presented in the form of a pleasant and refreshing liquid, but also to the method of manufacture of the California Fig Syrup Co., which ensures that uniformity and purity essential in a remedy intended for family use. Ask any physician who is well informed and he will answer at once that it is an excellent laxative. If at all eminent in his profession and has made a special study of laxatives and their effects upon the system he will tell you that it is the best of family laxatives, because it is simple and wholesome and cleanses and sweetens the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after-effects. Every well-informed druggist of reputable standing knows that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative, and is sold to all at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, because it gives general satisfaction, but one should remember that in order to get the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs it is necessary to buy the genuine, which is sold in original packages only, the name of the remedy—Syrup of Figs and also the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co., printed on the front of the bottle.

For the Rights to Liquezone for the United States.

This company is composed of business, professional and medical men of ability. Do you suppose that we would pay $100,000 for a newly discovered product, without knowing to a certainty that it does kill germs, and cures every germ disease?

Before making the purchase we tested Liquezone for two years—in thousands of difficult cases. Then we staked our fortune and our reputation on it. We can offer no better evidence that Liquezone does what we claim.

The world's best physicians, and the world's best hospitals, are today employing it.

We Offer $1,000

to the physician or scientist who discovers a disease germ that Liquezone can't kill. And if such a germ is discovered we will publicly announce the fact.

We never wish to claim that Liquezone cures a disease if the germs of that disease can't be killed by it.

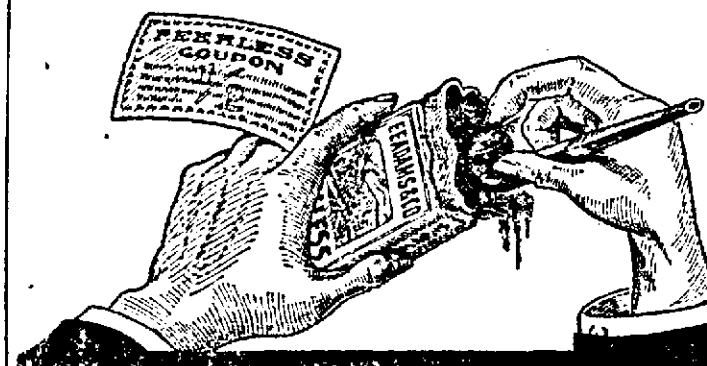

Liquezone is simply liquid oxygen; no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Pauli—diplomat German chemist—who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen, in simple form, into the blood, that no germ could live in any membrane or tissue.

Liquezone does that. We spend 14 days in making every bottle of it, and the result is a certain germ-killer when can be taken into the blood to go wherever the blood goes.

Liquezone Kills All Germs.

Any drug that kills germs is a poison to you, and it cannot be taken internally. All that medicine can do for a germ disease is to kill it.

A resident of Alabama, on application made in that state to the agent of a Minnesota building company, became a stockholder thereof, and obtained a loan from it, giving a note therefor, payable in the latter state, declared to be made with reference to and under the laws of Minnesota, secured by a mortgage covering Alabama lands, and containing a stipulation like that contained in the note. The fact that a husband who was the manager of his wife's grocery store, sold intoxicating liquors at the store, did not render the wife liable to the penalty prescribed by law, when the sale was made without her knowledge, contrary to her express orders and his promises to refrain from selling the liquor there. 33 Southern Rep. Where a corporation increases its capital stock under an arrangement with the creditor to take a portion of the increase in payment of a debt owing by the corporation, and the stock is issued to the creditor in pursuance of the agreement, the agreement is valid and binding on the creditor, and the liability of the creditor for his undertaking does not depend upon the filing of the amended articles before the stock is issued. 10 Detroit Legal News, (Michigan) 27.

Trade Unions—Intimidation to Workmen

A jury at Rutland, Vt., has decided that an employer is entitled to damages from a union that interfered with his business. The P. R. Patch Manufacturing company employees struck. The strikers intimidated workmen who entered the shops in their places. The company employed guards and provided a boarding house for the new men. The company was put to a great expense to operate the works, as it had a right to do under the law. It sued the union for $10,000 damages, and the jury rendered a verdict of $2,500. The property of the union men was levied upon and the company will collect by that means. FOREST FIRES IN MOUNTAINS

BIG SAWMILL IS DESTROYED

Plant at Tupper Lake Gave Employment to 350 Men—Great Damage Is Done in the Pennsylvania Oil Field—Other Losses.

Utica, N. Y., May 2.—Wide-spread forest fires in the Adirondacks north of this city have devastated uncultivated timber, isolated camps, and cottages, and are threatening to destroy whole villages. The loss is estimated now at $1,000,000.

The flames in the blazing mountains shoot fifty feet in the air in some places, and the villagers have fled with few belongings. Everything is destroyed from the Meadowbrook farm property four miles from Saranac lake all along the road to Lake Placid.

Many deer, hedgehogs, rabbits, cub bear, and scores of other wild animals lie along this road where they fall.

Big Sawmill Burns.

The Hurd mill at Tupper lake, the largest sawmill in the United States, which gave employment to 350 men, has been wiped out. The woods in the vicinity of Bay point, the Rockefeller camp location, is on fire, and the extensive camps are in danger. The St. Armand house burned, and at Benson mines ten camps with their many buildings were burned. Five hundred acres of woodland in the vicinity of McKeeover have burned. Newton Falls was saved partly by heroic work, although many of the buildings were destroyed.

Snow Checks Flames.

Until a means of communication with remote sections is re-established it will be impossible to learn whether or not there has been any loss of life.

A heavy snowstorm set in, practically checking the fierce flames, and the temperature has dropped about fifty degrees.

Reports received here indicate that the Loon Lake house and the White Face Inn at Lake Placid are safe, though possibly damaged by smoke, cinders and heat.

Virginia Town Suffers.

Richmond, Va., May 2.—Four blocks of buildings in West Point, Va., the York river terminus of the Southern railway, are in ashes as the result of a fire of unknown origin. The people fought the fire with buckets until the arrival of the Richmond firemen, when it was put under control. Rough estimates put the loss at $125,000. The fire practically wiped out the business section. No lives were lost. Thirty families are homeless.

Rain Stops Fire.

Bradford, Pa., May 2.—Advices from Watsonville, the town supposed to have been wiped out by flames, indicate that it escaped. Mount Jewett also escaped with small loss. But in the vicinity of Simpson and Bingham the destruction of oil property was complete over a wide area. It is estimated that at least 1,000 oil well rigs in McKean county were destroyed. From points along the Bradford, Burdell and Kinzua road 125 refugees were brought to the city. Rain began to fall and the fires are dying out.

Loss in Oil Fields.

Oil City, Pa., May 2.—The heavy rains checked the forest fires which have been raging in Venango, Forest and Warren counties, but not before vast tracts of valuable timber had been destroyed, crops ruined and a number of dwelling houses consumed. Near Tionesta, Forest county, eighteen rigs and several tanks of oil were burned. At Kinzua two big sawmills were burned, and scores of derricks and small tanks filled with oil were licked up by the flames. The total loss in the district between Tionesta and Warren alone is estimated at $200,000.

Forests Burn in Canada.

Montreal, Que., May 2.—Extensive forest fires are raging about fifty miles north of here, between the towns of St. Jovite and La Belle. The flames have reached the Canadian Pacific railroad line and the more inhabited portion of the Laurentian district. The village of Morrison, containing a mill and about a dozen farmhouses, was entirely destroyed, and the flames were so severe on both sides of the railroad track that people could not stand on the platforms as the train rushed through. The inhabitants of the district are leaving their animals and possessions a prey to the flames.

Lumber Yards Burn.

Portland, Ore., May 2.—Fire broke out in the lumber district along the water front in North Portland and destroyed property valued at $210,000, with insurance of about $60,000.

Blaze at Emporia, Kas.

Emporia, Kas., May 2.—The C. E. Lewis Hardware company was burned out. The loss on the stock is $20,000 and on buildings $10,000.

Promote Enlisted Men.

Washington, May 2.—The following enlisted men have been found qualified for promotion to the grade of second lieutenant in the army: Department of the Lakes, Edward E. McCammon, Fourteenth Infantry, and E. B. Smaly, Twentieth Infantry.

To Mothers:

You're buying a pig in a poke as far as much of the children's clothing on the market is concerned. Looks well, may not be high priced, but it soon betrays its short comings. Seams that don't show are sewed with cotton, get rotten and pull apart; not properly shaped or stitched—a little hard usage makes it look awful. You don't take such chances with the Boy's Clothing we sell you and you don't pay as much. Clothes you can trust, in Sailors, Norfolk, Vestees, Round Cornered Two Piece, Double Breasted Two Piece and Three Piece Suits in Chevots, Serges, and Scotches, plaid and fancy patterns, $2.50. $3.50 & $5.
